GEN. EDWARDS TELLS OF THE 26TH YANKEE DIVISION

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Nov. 26.—Major General Clarence R. Edwards, U. S. A., who trained and led the 26th Division in some of the hardest battles of the war, gave an accounting of his leadership to a vast crowd of the home folks this evening. The big Boston Arena was packed with people, many of them gray haired and many wearing the black band of mourning for the loved ones who have made the supreme sacrifice.

The reception given General Edwards was the climax of a full day and in addressing the crowd with tears in his eyes he said: "I wish to God that the stout hearted boys were here to attend this reception which should be to them and not to me."

He said that the Yankee Division had the cleanest record of any division that was over there. They were so good and pure that I was afraid that they could not fight, but the poorest officer could have got through anything with such men. He said that they were the first division of National Guardsmen to go across and the first to get into action and they fought for nine months with but ten days' rest. They never lost a fight and never gave ground, but what they recaptured it within a short time. They gained every objective they started for and often overran their objective. There was not a cold footed person in the division and there was only one deserter from the entire outfit.

"They fought for nine months with only 10 days' rest," he went on. "They never lost a fight, they were never obliged to give one inch of ground without its being immediately regained, they won every objective they were sent after and frequently overran and held their objectives. Never by the slightest indication did any word come to me that there was a cold foot in the whole division. We had only one deserter. And these Yankee boys gained more ground than any other American command."

General Edwards described the difficulties of organizing the division under the new army plan, and how they surprised the war department by their prompt acceptance of orders for embarkation on a ship that had waited in vain for another division. He months of the "American army" in France. There were no labor regiments in France at that time, and for the whole division there was only three motor trucks. The boys, he said, were quartered in cow stables, in horse stalls, in garrets and in pigsties.

"The weather," he added, "seemed to pick out the division for a special strafing and the boys were seldom dry. The feet of the men were generally wet, and I never saw men who put up with so many discomforts. I am merely sketching some of the difficulties, but the word I want to give you is that I never heard a complaint from those 20,000 men. The one thing they demanded was 'General, let us get at those boches.' I would go up in front of a company and ask how many boches he could get, and modest-like he would say he could polish off a couple. But when I got through the company a fellow standing there would say, 'If I don't get 19, shoot me.' That was the spirit."

GIRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely invest a few cents in a bottle of Knewlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.

Save your hair! Beautiful! It! You will say this was the best money you ever spent.

EXETER

Exeter, Nov. 27.—The chairman of the food conservation committee in the towns of this section were met Tuesday afternoon at the probate court room by George A. Wood of Portsmouth, who addressed them on the matter of conservation. A large delegation was present, representing nearly all of the towns in this section. A special program for food conservation week from Dec. 1 to 7 was arranged.

The district board of the second district of Rockingham county will probably close in about a week. Much business has been transacted there since it was organized in June, 1917, under the direction of Chairman George W. Lamprey, assisted by Miss Florence Baker as head clerk, and Miss Kimball as assistant. In the early fall an enlisted man, Joseph Cummings, was also assigned to clerical work there. Physical examinations have been conducted by Dr. A. W. Mitchell of Exeter, who has been assisted by Exeter physicians.

Exeter was visited by the first real taste of winter Monday night and Tuesday, the first snow of the season falling Monday evening about 9 o'clock, when a flurry whitened the ground. The temperature fell to 13 degrees above zero Tuesday morning and ice formed to a substantial thickness in many places.

In another letter written to his parents by John F. Coleman of the 209th Machine Gun company, he states that he was wounded in the leg by an enemy machine gun and had been in several different hospitals since.

Capt. Alvin E. Foss, formerly of the Coast Artillery company is now stationed at a mobilization camp at San Diego, Cal.

As a fuel saving method a friend of the church has fitted up a chapel in the basement of the church. It has all the necessary furnishings, and it is probable that many services will be held there. It has been dedicated and named "In honor of St. Michael and all Angels."

DOVER

Dover, Nov. 27.—The regular meeting of the Dover Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon in the banquet hall of the city building. The most interesting event of the session was an address delivered by Capt. Leslie Vickers on "Life in the Trenches." Captain Vickers is a British subject who prior to the war spent many years in this country.

Officials of the board of trade and also of the Dover Improvement Association stated Tuesday that no protest would be made by Dover citizens against the new schedule of rates on the Dover, Somersworth and Rochester Street railway, which goes into effect on Dec. 1. Representatives of both organizations stated that the new rates would undoubtedly benefit the great majority of Dover people, who will only have to pay a five cent fare in most cases, where now they are obliged to pay six.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Drouin of 46 Forest street has just received a letter from their son, George W. Drouin, who is in the United States service in France, which states that on the 19th of October he was wounded in the right shoulder. This letter was the first intimation that the parents of the young man had that he had been injured. Mr. Drouin went to Camp Dix from here on April 26 and soon afterwards went overseas.

282 LEFT OF 1800 BRITISH PRISONERS

London, Nov. 27.—Many shocking stories of their treatment are told by British prisoners who have reached England from Germany. Unfortunate Britishers who arrived at Friederichsfelde, Prussia, after hostilities ceased had a hard lot. They had been taken prisoner shortly before and were compelled to work behind the lines, being driven from place to place "like something lower than beasts."

Of one working party of 1800 only 282 came into Friederichsfelde. From 20 to 30 daily went into hospitals, and 50 of the party died during the first week in camp. Several of the men said that they caught scalls and ate them on the march.

It was admitted by the German doctors, current advices state, that "a large proportion of the 800 British prisoners at a camp at Lasquira (Laeken?) nine miles from Brussels, died from starvation or exposure."

EXPLAINS DEMOBILIZATION PROCEDURE

In explanation of and in answer to many questions regarding the official department order on the demobilization of enlisted men of the Navy, Rear Admiral Spencer S. Wood, commanding this district, Monday issued a letter to all commanding officers. It says in part:

"Applications for release from duty must be made by each man in writing and forwarded to the commanding officer with the approval of his commanding officer. All requests must be approved by the commanding officer of the 1st Naval District before men can be released.

"Commanding officers must report to the District Detail Officer by telephone or telegraph Friday afternoons of each week the number of men released during the week, by ratings, classes and branch of service.

"All paper work in connection with the releasing from active duty will be done by the District Detail Office, with the exception of the following stations which are now carrying both pay accounts and records: Receiving Ship at Boston; Navy Yard, Boston; Navy Yard, Portsmouth; Naval Detention Camp, Deer Island; Naval Radio School.

"In the case of the above-named stations, applications for release must be approved by the commanding officer. Orders will be issued by them placing the men on inactive duty and the health and service record with a copy of the orders forwarded to the commanding officer of the district in which the man was enrolled.

"Requests must show one of the required reasons given for release from duty and commanding officers before forwarding with their approval must satisfy themselves that statements are correct and that the men can be released without relief.

"Men serving in special technical duties on shore may make applications for release and when forwarded by their commanding officer, stating that their services can be dispensed with without relief, their release from active duty will be approved by the commandant. Such release will not be charged against the 20-percent quota.

"No clothing or small stores should be furnished men about to be placed on inactive duty, except in exceptional circumstances when it is necessary for their health and comfort. In this latter event, the pay officer holding their accounts must be immediately notified by telephone and in writing by the officer approving the requisition, as to the articles furnished and their value.

"Before a man is released from active duty he must be examined by the medical officer at his station and his physical condition at the time of his release entered on his health record."

PRES. TO SAIL NEXT WEEK

Will Leave Immediately After Congress Convenes---To be Gone Six Weeks

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Wilson will sail next week for Europe and expects to be back in this country by the middle of January. Plans are steadily going on for the trip, but nothing official is given out beyond the brief statement that he would leave immediately after Congress convenes and that he will be back in six weeks. No indication of when the peace conference will meet are given out but it is expected that it will open shortly after the Christmas holidays.

NO IDEA OF SINKING WAR SHIPS

Washington, Nov. 26.—The suggestion from London that naval vessels surrendered by Germany under the armistice may be sunk to avoid possible disagreement among the associated nations as to their disposition, was received by naval officials here with evident surprise. Secretary Daniels said today that the proposition had never been mentioned to him and he was certain American naval representatives had suggested no such plan. No information has been given as to the policy of the United States in this regard. Admiral Benson, the ranking officer among the American delegates, received full instructions before his departure, however, and undoubtedly this point was covered in his conferences with Secretary Daniels.

If the Versailles conference decrees that the German warships are to be prorated among the Allies according to naval losses, the United States would obtain only one destroyer and one armored cruiser, the major ships going to England, France and Italy.

WAS BORN IN THIS CITY

Moses P. Pickering, whose funeral took place Tuesday in Roxbury, was one of the oldest theatrical mechanics in Boston. Mr. Pickering was born at Portsmouth, Nov. 11, 1810. He went to Boston with his parents when he was a child, and at the age of thirteen he was graduated from the public schools. At the age of twenty-one he became a "grip" or mechanic in the theatres and followed the business until the time of his death. He was employed at the the Shubert theatre. He served in the Park theatre, the Plymouth theatre and Civil war.

Mr. Pickering was a charter member of Boston Lodge, T. M. A., and was active in its affairs. In 1891 he was elected president of the Theatrical Mechanics' Association of the United States and Canada. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma A. Pickering, and the son, Washington H. Pickering, a comedian, known on the stage as Harry Daly.

NEWINGTON

Newington, Nov. 27.—When the sad news was heard of the sudden death of Mrs. Karl H. Staples, a former resident of this town, which occurred at her home in Dorchester, Mass., on Friday evening, the members of our little community were electrified and stunned as by a shock of electricity, then filled with sympathy for her bereaved husband who is somewhere in France, her parents, brothers and sisters.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Hoyt, received one of her nice home letters on Wednesday assuring them that she would be present on Thanksgiving day to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. On Friday afternoon a telegram was received notifying them to come at once. The mother and sister Martha took the next train, but the reaper deity arrived ere they reached their journey's end and their loved one had been transplanted from her earthly home to her heavenly one.

Mrs. Staples was born in this town in February 1850 and received her education in our town school and in the Portsmouth high. Later she secured a position as bookkeeper in Boston where her faithfulness and efficiency in her work won the esteem and respect of her employers and of her mates.

About seven years ago she married Mr. Karl Staples of Cambridge, Mass., and they made their home in Everett, where her husband was one of the teachers in the high school. A few years later he accepted a position as teacher in Dorchester high and from that time have made their home in that city. Last summer Mr. Staples resigned his position and called as chaplain in the army. He sailed for France in August and she remained to keep the home for him.

Mrs. Staples was of a genial disposition true and sympathetic and in her new home, as she had here, won a host of friends who loved and honored her. Her gentle manners and those with whom she mingled. The happiness and welfare of those near and dear to her were considered first, then she acquired much happiness in doing for others and in keeping in touch with her old friends. She was very conscientious and loyal to her convictions and church of which she was a member of the choir, and faithful and active in its work. These combined to make her loved and popular outside of the home circle.

Her death, coming in the prime of life when her heart was filled with pleasant anticipation of the return of her husband during the present winter, as strong and well as when he left her to serve his country, comes with a crushing force to her family.

One cannot understand why at this time when her future life looked so bright that our Father gathered her to himself and left her home silent and empty, but as Frances Haverall said "Somewhere—sometime we will understand."

It is remarkable that Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Hoyt's immediate family circle have been spared grief and sorrow beyond the customary limit for in the forty years of their married life this is the first time in the family chain to be severed, and no doubt grief will be felt more keenly because the parting life of affection have never before been loosened.

The sympathy of friends and relatives here are extended to the sorrowing husband, parents, three sisters and four brothers, more especially to the husband over there and to the brother who is in a southern camp.

The funeral was held at her late home on Monday afternoon and on Tuesday morning her body was brought to her home town and placed in the receiving tomb to await the coming of her husband home from war.

Our minister, Rev. Mr. Gould and family returned from their vacation, which they spent in Bangor, Me., on Friday.

Mr. Jackson Hoyt and family are in Dorchester, Mass.

After an interval of two weeks church services were resumed on Sunday.

A dance will be given at the Town Hall this evening.

A Thankful or Victory Social will be given at the Town Hall on Thanksgiving evening giving everybody a chance to meet and have a general good time rejoicing together over the termination of the war. It is hoped that there will be a large number present, old and young, men, women as well as all the young people and please bring the wherewithal that will enable the committee in charge to serve a light repast.

MAKE CHARGES IN SCHOOL BUILDING PLAN

A special meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Tuesday evening to confer with Mr. Robert Aron, chief of the Housing Division of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, on the school house at the Atlantic Heights.

Mayer Ladd presided and there were present Mrs. Benfield, Messrs. Gooding, Knight, McCarthy, Mitchell, Newell, and Thayer.

Mr. Hopkins of the firm of Killam and Hopkins, the Atlantic Heights architects, presented a new set of plans for a school house that could be built for the sum allotted, $76,000. It is practically the same as the original plans with the exception that it has been simplified to some extent so that it could be brought within the appropriation.

Mr. Aron stated that the city could not and would not be held liable for any cost in excess of the appropriation. He expressed confidence that the building as now planned could be provided for the sum mentioned.

After consideration of the plans the Board voted that the plans so far as presented to the Board without prejudice to the City of Portsmouth in the matter of limitation of cost as expressed in the contract with the Emergency Fleet be approved.

It was stated that the material and labor was ready and that the work would be started on the school house at once. It was also stated that the work of remodeling the present office building into a temporary school building was progressing and would be ready by the time the school furniture arrived.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. We have backache and dull aches in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, cold stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PORTSMOUTH BOYS IN THIS DIVISION

(By Associated Press)

American Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 26.—The Seventy-sixth Division of the American Army, reduced by replacement drafts to sixty-one officers and 1000 men, has arrived at the port of St. Nazaire and is embarking for home.

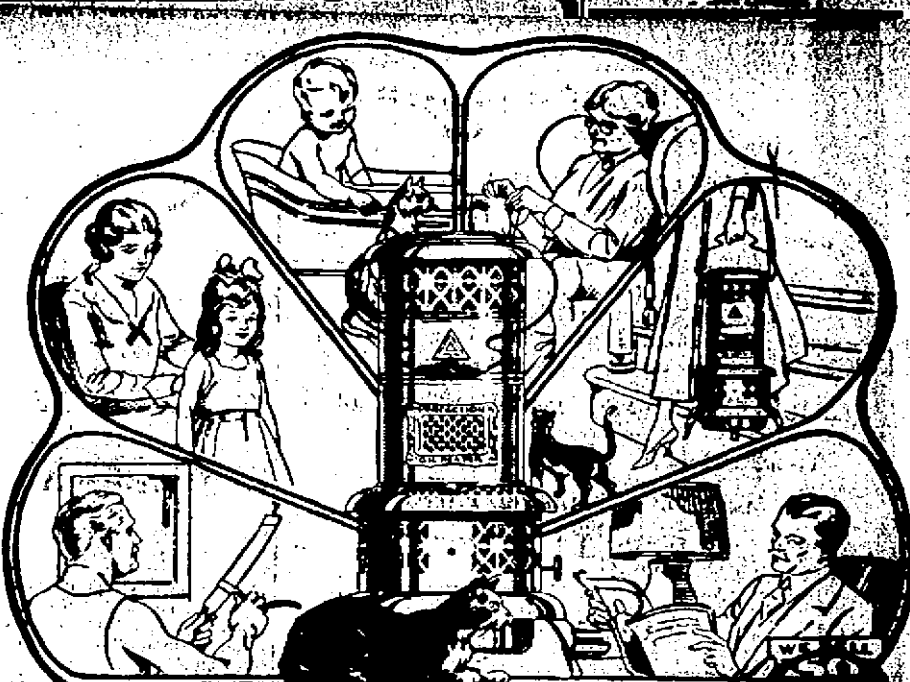

The Twenty-Seventh Division (New York National Guard) totaling 184 officers and 12,889 men, has been withdrawn from the Le Mans area and probably will embark in a few days. Both these divisions operated on the British front.

It should be understood that the reduced strength does not mean heavy casualties, but only that troops from the Seventy-sixth have been used to fill gaps in other divisions.

4-POUND SUGAR BASIS IN SIGHT

Edward Wigglesworth, chief of the sugar division of the Massachusetts food administration, said last evening that he is practically certain that by Dec. 15 the allotment of sugar will be raised to four pounds per month. The present limit is three pounds monthly.

He adds that January should see nearly normal conditions and that all restrictions should be abandoned by February.

Facing the Right Way.

From Germany, whose old-time government has been overthrown, and which is more or less rent with internal dissensions in the absence of an accepted and stable government, comes at least one cheering note. It is a proclamation issued by the Council of the People's Commissioners to welcome returning troops, and it reads as follows: "You marched into the field for the Fatherland when you had nothing to say, and a handful of autocrats had the power in their hands and distributed the loot among themselves. You had to fight in silence, while hundreds of thousands at your side had to die. Today you return to your own country, wherein the future only the people themselves will have anything to say."

This means that the old regime has gone forever, and that Germany knows it as well as the rest of the world. There may be turmoil and trouble for a time—under all the circumstances it would be strange if there were not—but ultimately the government of Germany is to rest in the hands of the German people, who will be free in the true sense of the word, whatever form their government may take.

And to the German people this will be a blessing of unfolded value. They have lived in the past in the grip of an autocrat whose word was law and whose will was supreme. Even under that kind of government they prospered and would have been content if the Kaiser had seen fit to let well enough alone. He was not. He plunged the nation into a war of conquest and aggrandizement which has brought it to the very verge of ruin.

But the past is past and the people are preparing to rise to their opportunity and their duty. They know that the future of the nation rests in their hands, and while they are not familiar with the ways of self-government they will undoubtedly be able to work their way to a stable basis in time. It will take time, but it means much when the soldiers of an autocracy are welcomed home as returning to "their own country."

The Kaiser, the Crown Prince and other leaders of the late autocracy are in exile. The country has been reduced to poverty and want, but the people are already looking forward to a better day, a day in which their voice shall be heard and heeded. Kaiserism is forever gone and Germany in common with the rest of the world will be the better for it.

It is no light task that lies before the people of Germany. They are strangers to the methods and the blessings of self-government, but they are selling their faces in the right direction in the course of time the country will emerge from depths to which it was sunk by the rule of "divine" the haughty war lords, all of whom have gone to their graves. The nation cannot escape the burdens that have been laid upon it and must work its way to its feet with a will, but with the blight of autocracy removed there is a bright future.

BUY NOW, if not rapid, progress toward a brighter day and a better life.

The report of the year's work of the local chapter of the Red Cross is illuminating and cheering. It shows that an immense amount of work has been done by the women of this city and vicinity, and of the value of that work it is not necessary to speak. Properly may the public say to this valiant organization, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant!"

Leading men of this state and Maine are taking hold of the bridge proposition in a way to encourage the belief that substantial results will come from their efforts. It is the duty as well as the privilege of every public-spirited citizen to boost the movement for a new bridge and a free bridge between this city and Kittery.

The people of this country should be interested in the following dispatch from Paris: "There has been a notable lowering of prices in the recent past. The price of grain from North America has dropped nearly 50 per cent."

It is something of a novelty to receive dispatches direct from Berlin, as some of the papers are now doing. This dating of letters and dispatches "somewhere" may possibly have been necessary, but it became very tiresome.

In spite of all the talk about "world democracy" it is to be noticed that the Belgians are inclined to make much of the return of their king and queen.

Another ship will soon go down the ways at Newington, which is doing its full share toward getting ready for the "freedom of the seas."

Give thanks. Fortunately, it will not be necessary to do this till it hurts.

ASKS FOR MITIGATION OF ARMISTICE

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 27.—W. S. Self, German Foreign Minister, has asked the allies once more for mitigation of the armistice terms, and has requested permission to delay the delivery of railroad rolling stock until Feb. 1st on the ground of difficulty caused by bad conditions and the lack of lubricating oils.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Will Reduce the Force.

It is understood that the force of female operators at the local yard will be reduced and that the first discharge which may come directly after the holiday, will include about 70 of the women force.

Recovering Stolen Property

Officers from the Marine Guard at the Portsmouth yard have been busy of late in the investigation of articles missing from the post in the form of clothing, etc. The officer with the assistance of the local police are said to have succeeded in locating much stolen property in Portsmouth and several members of the guard are under arrest pending the outcome of the investigation.

Sailors Panhandling.

It is reported that a number of sailors had come to the local yard to collect funds from the Red Cross to pay their railroad fares to and from their homes for Thanksgiving.

"This is another form of panhandling that should not be tolerated," said the admiral. "I do not believe the Red Cross funds were intended for any such purpose."

Admiral Wood also declared he had informed Police Superintendent Crowley to proceed against navy men arrested for street disorders in the same manner as with any one not in uniform.

1233 Navy Deaths in War.

Deaths in the navy from "war causes" totaled 1233, Surgeon-General Braisted today told the House naval committee, which is framing the 1920 naval appropriation bill. No figures were given as to deaths from disease.

The bodies of practically all navy men dying in foreign service, he said, had been returned home.

He added that there were 16,000 patients in naval hospitals, and that institutions at New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Norfolk were crowded. Appropriations for the Navy Medical Department amounting to $18,000,000, asked under plans for continuing the war have been reduced to $9,200,000.

Caught in His Home Town

L. B. Newton, a seaman under sentence at the Naval Prison who made his escape on Nov. 12 was arrested on Tuesday by the police in his home town at Shelbyville, Ind., where he went direct following his escape.

Of the several prisoners who got away during the past six months only two are now at large.

Southern Men in Black Face

The minstrel show to be given at the Naval Prison on Thanksgiving day night will be produced by the prisoners confined on the U. S. S. Southern.

Second Team to Play

The Marine Guard second football team will meet Portsmouth high on the local playgrounds on Thanksgiving day.

CROWN PRINCE HAS NOT SEEN HIS "DAD"

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 27.—The former Crown Prince had not seen or heard from his father for weeks up to the time he was taken to the island of Wierengen, according to an interview he gave to newspapermen while on his way through Holland to his present home in the Zuyder Zee island. His wife, he said, would remain in Germany. "A change is coming in Germany but one has to be careful about prophesying," he replied to a question as to what he thought of the revolution in Germany.

DEVLIN CHARGED WITH MURDER, DIES IN FRANCE

Sold Watch of Dead Man and
Was the Last Person Seen With Him.

The last chapter in a mysterious murder case has been closed in the announcement of the death of Edward Devlin of Dover, a member of the 101 Regiment who died from wounds in France on Oct. 26, 1918.

The local police have been looking for Devlin since 1915 when he was indicted by the grand jury for murder in connection with the death of Elmer M. Smart, also of Dover.

Smart's body was found floating in the South Mill pond in Sept. 1915. On the day the body was discovered Devlin who was the last man seen with Smart is said to have appeared at the pond and after looking at the body disappeared.

The Portsmouth, Dover and Lawrence police hunted several weeks for the suspected man but failed to get any trace of his movements.

The local police are somewhat surprised in the outcome of the case from the fact that Devlin enlisted from Lawrence where he was well known by the police of that city who held a warrant many months for his arrest.

Suspicion from the first pointed to Devlin owing to his disposing of a watch belonging to the dead man to another party in this city who has since then met his death by foul play.

The information as to the death of Devlin was received by Chief of Police Hurley on Monday.

HOLIDAY CHEER FOR MEN IN THE SERVICE

The War Camp Community Service is making an endeavor to bring holiday cheer to as many enlisted men as possible in this vicinity on Thanksgiving Day. A goodly number of people have responded to the appeal made by this organization to entertain enlisted men at the holiday dinner. This organization has also appealed to the people of Newburyport to open their homes to men in the service on the holiday that the men far from home who have a longing for home associations, will have a chance to enjoy a touch of home life. Already nearly a dozen families in Newburyport have offered to entertain such men.

The Girls' Service League of Newburyport is planning for a chafing dish supper and a party in the evening for all the enlisted men entertained in these homes.

The War Camp Community Service and the Girls' Patriotic League are to entertain 25 enlisted men at the John Paul Jones club house on Middle street on Thanksgiving. A holiday dinner will be served at noon and in the afternoon the League hostesses will see that the young men are pleasantly entertained.

The War Camp Community Service and the Army and Navy Service Club are to give a chafing dish supper at the club building on Court street on the holiday evening. The menu to include creamed chicken, rolls, mince pie, cranberry sauce, and ice cream. An entertainment program will be planned under the direction of Mrs. Thomas D. Noyes and dancing will be enjoyed both afternoon and evening.

NO WEIGHT ATTACHED TO CRITICS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 27.—No weight is attached by President Wilson to the argument of critics of his plan for attending the peace conference that upon crossing the sea he loses the right to perform executive duties and must allow them to devolve upon the Vice President. It was said officially today that the President would administer the duties of his office completely aboard ship and from Paris as though he were in the United States. He holds that there are no constitutional difficulties and needless and cable communication solves the physical problem.

THANKSGIVING A DAY OF JOY

Thanksgiving this year will be a day of special great joy and the greatest Thanksgiving since the days of the Pilgrim Fathers. We have so many causes for the thankfulness this year with peace brought about by the wonderful victory. The day will be observed by prayer and praises to God by a union service in the Methodist church in the forenoon and by services at the Episcopal churches. In the homes family reunions and Thanksgiving feasts will give the day much cheer and many local households residents whose own boys are overseas or far away are to show their patriotic spirit and kindly interest in some one else's boy in the khaki or blue and have one or more enlisted men at their table that they may enjoy a touch of home life on this great holiday.

At the navy yard and forts the enlisted men will enjoy a holiday dinner

GOLDEN WEDDING OBSERVED BY LOCAL COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Harmon of South street on Tuesday observed their golden wedding and were the recipients of numerous gifts in commemoration of the event. Mr. Harmon who is one of Portsmouth's best known business men, was born in Saco, Me., Feb. 2, 1850, the son of John and Annie E. Harmon. His parents moved to this city when he was a very small boy and he has since made his home here. He left school in 1861 to go to work in the navy yard, his father being at the time in the army. After working in the yard a few years he engaged in the meat and provision business which he conducted for 14 years. Of late years he has been engaged in making sausages. He was a member of the Portsmouth fire department for 36 years, becoming a member of Kearsarge company No. 3, when that company was organized. He served as assistant chief engineer under Chiefs Marston, Waterhouse, Fletcher and Seymour. He has been a member of Union lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, and Osceola lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F. for many years. On Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 25, 1868, he married Miss Mary A. Dixon, daughter of Ichabod and Nancy Dixon of Milton, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Lovejoy. They have one son, James H. Harmon of New York.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the democrats are trying to get Mayor Ladd to run for the fourth term.

That if he decides to do so, it will be the first time since 1873 that a mayor has received the fourth consecutive nomination.

That the last honor of that nature went to Hon. William H. Sise who was mayor in 1873-79-80-81.

That reports of navy yard discharges were going thick and fast on Tuesday.

That the increase in the numbers of B. & M. passenger trainmen taking a morning lunch at the depot cafe is apparent.

That the conductors are wondering if the new waitress is the drawing card and if any one of the brankies will emigrate to New York.

That junk thieves are said to be giving much attention around the closed brewing plants.

That late political gossip today has it that a democratic candidate for mayor may be found in ward 3.

That the city should spend a little money for license signs on public autos and junk wagons which can be seen without the use of microscopes.

That the city council has an important meeting tonight.

That some janitors believe in furnishing plenty of heat on warm days.

That on cold days they forget all about such a thing as heat.

That one of the managers of the Ward 5 banquet claims there is too much mixed politics in the affair.

That the Gale Shoe Co. workers may be seen on the alleys this winter with a bowling team.

That the B. & M. freight clerks may also take to the sport and roll away at the pino.

That some dredging will be done in the river between the pier at the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge and Badgers Island.

MORE SUGAR TO BE ALLOWED

George A. Wood, local food administrator, announced today that four pounds of sugar a month per person in each family is to be allowed Dec. 1, and the distribution of sugar cards on that basis is being made today to all local sugar dealers.
